Walnut shade.

Rain and snow for the last week have made it very disagreeable under foot.

Some of the Kansas Taneyites are visiting with friends and relatives around the Shade. Charles Smith and family, of Cherryvale, came in last week for a few weeks outing in the Ozarks.

Our teacher, D. B. Palmer, has given the school at the Shade a week vacation for Christmas.

Presents for the various Christmas trees around here were tied up in a hurry by our merchants Saturday. Everything bespeaks a merry Christmas for the little folks.

Bad St. Clair delivered his first sermon Sunday at Pleasant Shade to a very interested audience.

Cris Clapp, of Kansas City, has been visiting for several days with his mother at the Shade.

Mrs. T. B. Clapp, of Nowater, Oklahoma, is expected on the 11 o'clock train today, and will visit with Mrs. Clapp at the Shade for a few days.

Some of our noted Walnut Shadists were looking on at the hub Saturday, in the persons of J. W. Estep, deputy assessor, D. B. Palmer, school commissioner, and James A. Cummings, the teacher at Garber.

Mrs. A. M. Flowers has postponed her trip north indefinitely, on account of business.

R. R. Cummings, at Sacramento, California, says that clearing house checks won't buy a pass to Branson, hence he won't pass his Christmas at the Shade this year.

A very delicate little girl was ushered into the J. C. Palmer home on the 14th, bearing the name of Wilson. She demanded bed and board for two reasons, one that her father was in Oklahoma, and the other that Mr. Palmer is her grandfather. Linda, the mother did very well for a time, but was taken with spasms, from which she suffered very much, but under the care of Dr. Baldwin she is now doing very well.

John Snell, of Swan, was here visiting his aged father and mother last week.

(The above correspondence is dated December 23, and should have been received by us in time for last week's issue, but did not come to sight until Monday, December 30.—Ed.)

Trial catarrh treatment are being mailed out free, on request, by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. These tests are proving to the people—without a penny's cost—the great value of this scientific prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

Kirbyville.

Miss Bertie Snapp spent a few days of the Christmas here at home with her uncle and Dr. and Mrs. Anderson of Kirbyville.

Chauncey Adams was a belated Christmas arrival from Kansas.

Clay Vanzandt who is a student at the college at Forsyth seemed so enthusiastic and contented that Willie Mahoney decided to join also, and Kirbyville is very proud of the representation there.

Mr. Adams gladdened the hearts of the young folks and old folks too by a fine dance Friday night. Newt Haggard, Will Snapp and Pres Mahoney were all present without their respective families, which occasioned much good humored fun and joking.

While there have been finer Christmas trees and bigger crowds in bygone days the last Christmas tree was unusually pleasant, and the real peace on earth good will spirit more pronounced. There was candy and toys for every little child, and an interesting though brief program. Edwin Vanzandt had the distinction of receiving the only Teddy Bear on the tree, a fine life like fellow that seemed to have crept up in the green from some sportman's aim. And little Mable Morris whose home is with aunt Addie Anderson, received a wonderful crimson Santa Claus doll that had come all the way from California and a beautiful doll from Kansas City. While the cap pistols and "Merry Christmas" things that delight the other little folks were abundant.

December 31.

"Nil Desperandum."

We always may be what we might have been.

Too Much Face.

You feel as if you had one face too many when you have Neuralgia. Don't you? Save the face, you may need it; but get rid of the Neuralgia by applying Ballard's Snow Liniment. Finest thing in the world for rheumatism, neuralgia, burns, cuts, scalds, lame back and all pains. Sold by J. W. Owens, Protom, Mo.

Pedrow.

Victor school had a fine tree and a good time for Christmas. To provide for the expenses they had a box supper which netted $20.54. Merchant Waddle of the Shade ordered the supplies for the tree, which was had on Christmas eve, and everyone present was remembered, and all had a good time, so far as we could learn. No whiskey, and a quiet time.

Mr. Long and wife came down from Springfield to spend Christmas and New Years with their parents.

Bill Hensley's daughter and husband came in from Oklahoma to spend the holidays with him.

S. E. Moberly came down from St. Joe and spent a week with his parents, W. P. Moberly and wife.

Bill Craig returned Saturday from Kansas City, where he had taken two thousand cedar trees to sell for Christmas trees.

J. W. Campbell and family came down to spend Christmas and had a fine time. There was a candy breaking at their place last night.

Mrs. Kelley's brother has come in, and will stay here this summer.

S. E. Moberly started back to St. Joe Saturday. J. W. Campbell went with him.

S. S. Chase and wife took the train north Saturday for a visit.

It is a little frosty now in the morning, but too warm for hog killing as yet. A few are butchering some, however.

Mrs. King has been pretty sick, but is improving.

Mrs. Fisher is on the sick list.

Lena and Birdie Moberly went to see their sister, Gertrude McMillan, Saturday.

S. E. Moberly and his mother went to J. W. Campbell's Thursday, and Friday S. E. went up to Fisher's and spent the day.

Bill Craig's people are at home now. A happy new year to all.

Oasis.

Santa Claus remembered a good many with a jug of corn juice, judging by the anti-rheumatic movements of some of the boys.

Wm. Youngblood has purchased a new wagon.

John Hoover bought a load of hay of E. E. Stires last week.

Doctor and W. K. Cottrell spent Christmas with the home folks, returning to their homes on the 27th.

Most everybody is getting their hogs up now, and most everybody is a hog or two short.

Amos Blasingame and May Graham were married the 24th and departed the 25th, for New Mexico, where Amos has had a railroad position for some time. The best wishes of their many friends go with them to their new home.

W. A. Huckstep spent Christmas with the old folks at home, returning to St. Louis the 26th.

The children of Wm. McKinney are reported to have the whooping cough. A party was given at A. Blasingame's Thursday night in honor of Jay and Nova Owens, who departed with their mother for New Mexico on the 27th.

Our enterprising merchant is putting in a five-ton stock seal.

December 28.

The Meanest Man in town.

Is the one who always wears a frown, is cross and disagreeable, and is short and sharp in his answers. Nine cases out of ten it's not the poor fellow's fault, it's his liver and digestion that make him feel so miserable, he can't help being disagreeable. Are you in danger of getting into that condition? Then start at once taking Ballard's Herbine for your liver—the safe, sure and reliable vegetable regulator. Sold by J. W. Owens, Protom, Mo.

Postmistress 61 Years.

Mrs. Kenward, whose appointment as postmistress at the quaint old post office at Wivelsfield, near Hayward's Heath, dates back to 1846, celebrated her eighty-eighth birthday the other day, says the London Standard. Despite her years Mrs. Kenward attends to her own household duties, and is a great reader of the newspapers. She believes herself to be the oldest postmistress in the country. Her father was a farmer at Speldhurst, near Tunbridge Wells. Mrs. Kenward hopes to become a centenarian and to die in harness.

Author's Funeral Pathetic.

Sterne's funeral was as friendless as his deathbed. Becket, his publisher, was the only one who followed the body to its undistinguished grave in the parish burial ground of Marylebone.

Every Mother

Is or should be worried when the little ones have a cough or cold. It may lead to croup or pleurisy or pneumonia—then to something more serious. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure the trouble at once and prevent any complication. Sold by J. W. Owens, Protom, Mo.

THE TANEYVILLE EYE

VOL. I. TANEYVILLE, MO., THURSDAY, JAN. 2, 1908. NO. 27.

BY COL. A. S. PRATHER

Receipts made by Col. Prather for subscriptions, advertising or job work will be honored at the publication office in Forsyth.

LOCAL ITEMS

Comrade Geo. Edmonds has been quite sick, but the call made on him by the visiting committee of the post we hope will be of advantage in cheering him up.

Wm. Johnson has bought the Dr. Kelton store, has taken possession and is ready for business. He will run a butcher shop in connection with the business.

There is a new Richmond in the field for the honors of checker champion. Little Callie Brown is his name.

Numerous Christmas dinners were served in town, notable among which was one at Jesse Lambeth's where Dr. Williams and others were guests. Jess said they had opened faced pie with pumpkin movement. There were numerous "movements" made on the pies and things.

Some one has suggested that every thing has not closed down, and that prosperity is still prosperous, as the spring flights commenced before Christmas.

The Christmas tree at the school house was not a howling success, for Sheriff Bob Adams and Deputy Newt Boles came in response to a telephone message, and the "howling" was all nicely broke up before it commenced; but the exercises and program were the best ever, at Taneyville. Perfect order prevailed, and everyone on the bill, from John Morrow and his violin to the little four-year-old of Bert Stout's went through their parts like clock work. We cannot give an extended review, but must congratulate all, especially the Sunday school scholars and Miss Minnie Smith, who shows marked ability as a character delineator, and would make a sensation on the stage as an actress. The decorations were superb. Everybody got something. A tub full of pop corn balls, with a candy accompaniment, was passed around, and everyone had a plenty.

A number of visitors, including Tommy Poage and Miss Lora Smith, of Garrison, were present. The Kilbys and Stouts certainly contributed to the success of the occasion, especially Uncle Dick and his wife, who managed everything they undertook in a satisfactory manner. There were others who did their parts well too, but space forbids further details.

The entertainment at Dickens was an enjoyable one. Perfect order, with a few minor exceptions, was maintained.

The presence of an officer of the law has a wonderfully subduing effect on some people who think they can run things to suit themselves. A strict and rigid enforcement of the law, without fear or favor, has a wonderful effect for good in any community. We believe Taney county is undergoing a revolution along these lines.

The Republican was in error when it stated that there had been a cutting scrape in Taneyville on Christmas, also in respect to the one knock down and drag out. There was no one cut with a knife or other instrument. There were about four fist fights, but they were said to have been fair and square and no one was seriously injured.

Cal Cook was driving a fine bunch of steers to a stalk field on Beaver Friday.

Rev. Grant Johnson was in town Saturday consulting a physician about a throat trouble with which Mrs. Johnson is afflicted.

The calm after the storm is very pronounced.

Dick Prather, advertising manager for the Julian, Kokenge Shoe Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, paid the Old Colonel and Betsy a flying visit Thursday. This Taney county boy has worked his way up from kicking a jobber for the Brown Shoe Co. at $40 a month to his present position with the J. K. Co. at a monthly salary of $200.

Mrs. Caudle seems to be resting easily. We hope for her rapid recovery.

That G. A. R. dinner was a "Honey Pot" sure enough. On Saturday December 28, at Lem Wilson's Star hotel, under the auspices of J. N. Hilton Post, thirty old soldiers, friends and relatives, sat down to a bean dinner with turkey on the side, with everything good to eat that the country afforded, prepared with great care and skill by the best cooks this side of "Gay Paree." The old soldiers, Blue and Gray, had the feed of their lives. Even Comrade Bill Stout is yet filled out like a Brooklyn alderman. Everything was informal and without toasts or speeches, but the way the old boys enjoyed themselves was a caution. The following is a list of those present:

Bushrod Triplett and wife, Wm. Stout and wife, O. H. Pierce and wife, Duncan Campbell and wife, Wm. Johnson, wife and son, Tom Jernigan and wife, Messrs. Liengenfelder, Sullinger, A. C. Kisee, Parson Griffin, Wm. Caudle, C. N. Davis, A. S. Prather, Garret and son, Cook, J. N. Ray, Dr. Williams, Wm. Parsley, Capt. McElligott, Gen. Sherman, J. M. Reams, and Mrs. Anderson.

The Post met at 2 o'clock and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: C. N. Davis, P. C.; Geo. Edmonds, S. V. C.; B. Triplett, J. V. C.; Duncan Campbell, Q. M.; O. H. Pierce, Adjt.; Parson Griffin, Chaplain, Wm. Stout, O. D. A committee, Wm. Caudle, J. M. Sullenger and D. Campbell, were appointed to get the names, company and regiment of deceased comrades, that monuments may be procured.

Mrs. Mamie Prather-Mahoney and the children were visiting Betsy and returned home Sunday, fearing an impending blizzard.

The Sabbath school elected officers last Sunday for the ensuing year as follows: A. S. Prather, superintendent; Bert Stout, asst.; John Morrow, secretary and treasurer; Miss Catha Liebhart, organist; and Miss Alice Bonebreak assistant.

Lewis Hiers is still suffering with a stroke of paralysis.

Comrade Liengenfelder passed Saturday night in Taneyville. Whether it was a press of business or turkey weds we do not know, but we imagine it was the latter.

Crawford Grant was a pleasant visitor Sunday. Some one suggested that Crawford had come up to review, and catch up with some of the new checker moves that Cally Brown has been working in on some of the champions.

J. N. Combs offers his services to the public as an auctioneer, will answer all calls at very reasonable rates, and asks for a share of the business, guaranteeing satisfaction.

Taneyville Merchants Talk Business.

The Caudel Hack Line.

William Caudel desires to inform the public and his friends that he will continue to run his hack line from Chadwick to Forsyth. Not being bothered and delayed by carrying the United States mails after July 1, he can make better time, and devote his entire time, energy and attention to the rapid and safe conveyance of his patrons. He has purchased new hacks, and is thoroughly equipped to render prompt and satisfactory service. Thanking his old and time-tried friends and the traveling public for all past favors, he hopes by strict attention to business and consideration of their requirements, to receive a continuance of their valued patronage.

He will convey passengers to any destination they desire at prices which will prove satisfactory to all concerned.

The World and Its People.

We all know, at times, it's a miserable old world. And if we are at all bright we know that we help to make it so.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidney nerves get weak, then these organs fail. Don't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is simply makeshift. Get a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come. Free sample test sent on request by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Your health is surely worth this simple test. Sold by all dealers.

Why Letters Are Unwritten.

Why not keep up writing-desk supplies just as conscientiously as those for the pantry? asks a writer. Few households would get along a week without sugar, salt or soap, yet how many letters are unanswered for the lack of a good pen, a stamp or an envelope? It is not the expense, but lack of thought, that keeps an insufficient or meager supply of the necessary articles on hand.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation, even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by all dealers.

"Leprosy not so Bad," Says Jack London.

"If it were given me to choose between being compelled to live in Molokai for the rest of my life, or in the East End of London, the East Side of New York, or the Stock Yards of Chicago, I would select Molokai without debate."

Thus writes Jack London in the Woman's Home Companion of his visit to the Hawaiian leper colony of Molokai.

"In Molokai the people are happy. I shall never forget the celebration of the Fourth of July I witnessed there. At six o'clock in the morning the 'horribles' were out, dressed fantastically, astride horses, mules and donkeys (their own property), and cutting capers all over the Settlement. Two brass bands were out as well. Then there were the pa-ri-ri-ri-ri, thirty or forty of them, Hawaiian women all, superb horsewomen, dressed gorgeously in the old, native riding costume, and dashing about in twos and threes and groups. In the afternoon Mrs. London and I stood in the judges' stand and awarded the prizes for horsemanship and costume to the pa-ri-ri-ri. All about were the hundreds of lepers with wreaths of flowers on head and necks and soulders, looking and making merry. And always, over the brows of hills and across the grassy level stretches, appearing and disappearing, were the groups of men and women, gaily dressed, on galloping horses, horses and riders bedecked and flower garlanded, singing and laughing and riding like the wind. And as I stood in the judges' stand and looked at all this, there came to my recollection the leper house of Havana, where I had once beheld some two hundred lepers, prisoners inside four restricted walls until they died. No, there are a few thousand places I wot of in this world over which I would select Molokai as a place of permanent residence."

A Roaring Drill Hole.

Hadley Tatum's roaring drill hole is the latest nature freak in the great Missouri-Kansas mining district, says the Joplin News-Herald. The audible hole-in-the-ground is a mile west of Chitwood. The phenomenon was discovered a few weeks ago, and beyond a question of a doubt it is an 18 karat wonder. "Why, that bloomin' hole can almost talk," observed Mr. Tatum.

"It seems as though it says: 'Everything is coming my way, and if you could only see it you would think that everything was going its way. You see, the drill bit became obstinate when we had reached the depth of 84 feet, and when we endeavored to draw it out of the ground it refused to budge—at first. We finally got it out, and then the roaring began. It was an intake of air that caused the sound, a vacuum evidently having been penetrated beneath the surface of the earth. While the drill bit itself did not penetrate this underground cavity it probably punctured a vein leading to it. For some reason or other, as is quite apparent, this cavity was devoid of air and when it was pierced the suction naturally became pronounced. The escape of water from an underground cavern may have caused the vacuum. So great was the downward rush of air that one of our men who rashly placed his hand over the opening of the hole had the thrilling experience of having his entire arm jerked into the hole, and he was unable to rise without assistance. When a board was placed over the hole the suction held it so fast that one man could not remove it. The hole was boarded over and the cover held in place with clay."—Carthage Press.

Cautious Answer.

The caution of the Aberdonian in giving an answer to a direct question was well illustrated the other day, when one was asked: "Was not your father's death very sudden?" Slowly drawing one hand from his pocket and pulling down his beard, the interrogated one cautiously replied: "Aye, it was unco' sudden for him. I ne'er kent o' na feyther bein' in a hurry before."—Stray Stories.
